Duties of Secretary of State

The office of Secretary of State is constitutional, and the Secretary of State is the chief administrative officer of the Department of State. By virtue of the Constitution of Norh Carolina and statutes enacted thereunder, the Secretary of State is a member of the Governor's Council of State, member of the Local Government Commission, member of the State Board of Public Buildings and Grounds, member of the Municipal Board of Control, Chairman of the Board of Advisers of the World War Veterans Loan Fund, and a Trustee of the State Library.

In addition to the duties imposed upon the Secretary of State by virtue of his membership on the foregoing Boards and Commissions, he is specifically required to attend at every session of the Legislature for the purpose of receiving bills which shall have become laws, and to perform such other duties as may then be devolved upon him by resolution of the two Houses, or either of them. He shall attend the Governor whenever required by him for the purpose of receiving documents which have passed the Great Seal. He receives and keeps all conveyances and mortgages belonging to the State. He enrolls, edits and distributes all acts and resolutons passed by the General Assembly, and distributes all legislative journals of the General Assembly and the reports of the Supreme Court. He is required to countersign every commission issued by the Governor. He is the custodian of all oaths taken by State Officials and likewise the custodian of all election returns of the State. He has charge of trade-mark registrations and all corporation records, foreign and domestic, issuing certificates of incorporation and domestication. He is custodian of the Land Grant Office, and issues grants upon application for newly entered land. He maintains a division of publications and compiles, edits, and distributes state directories, the North Carolina Manual, court calendars, and session laws pamphlets.

All amendments to the Constitution of North Carolina are enrolled by the Secretary of State among the permanent records of the Department of State.

The Secretary of State is the administrator of North Carolina's Securities Act, commonly known as Capital Issues Law, regulating the issuance and sale of securities in this State.

The Office of Secretary of State

The office of Secretary of State developed from that of Secretary of the Province, which began in 1675 with the appointment of Robert Holden, and continued by the Constitution of 1776. The Secretary of the Province was appointed by the Crown at pleasure, and received his patent from the Governor's Council. He was a Justice of the Peace, Clerk of Pleas of the Crown, and issued land grants. The Constitution of 1776 made the term three years and the method of appointment election by the General Assembly. The Constitution of 1835 reduced the term to two years. The Constitution of 1868 increased the term to four years, and made the office elective by the people.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Department of State,
State Capitol, Raleigh, July 1, 1948.

HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR;
Members of the General Assembly and
The People of North Carolina.

GREETING:

I submit herewith biennial reports of the Department of State for the fiscal bienniums, July 1-June 30, 1942-1944; July 1-June 30, 1944-1946; and July 1-June 30, 1946-48. The first two have been delayed by reason of printing difficulties beyond my control. Incorporated in the reports are tables of information frequently sought as well as data required by law. These tables are presented in a manner that will indicate the volume of business handled by this Department.

I show herein an itemized statement of moneys received and deposited to the credit of the general fund account of the state in the administration of the various duties of the Department for the bienniums indicated.
